

Iowa's new felony animal torture law: what enforcement professionals should know

Hosted by the Iowa Police Chiefs Association, the Iowa State Sheriffs and Deputies Association and Humane World for Animals

This training is designed for law enforcement officers, prosecutors and animal control professionals seeking a stronger understanding of Iowa's new felony animal torture law and its application in real-world investigations. The session will emphasize how statutory elements are applied in practice, with a focus on building strong, well-documented cases to support prosecution.

Topics to be covered include:

- Key statutory elements and definitions
- Evidence of intent, knowledge and serious injury
- Distinguishing felony torture from other cruelty offenses
- Report writing and scenario-based application
